GEORGIAN COURT UNIVERSITY
A tradition of excellence...a future of success

Dear Friends of Georgian Court University,

When future generations of Georgian Court University friends and alumni look back at the 2009–2010 academic year, they just might wonder how we made it through one of the most tumultuous economic times in our nation's history.

We did it with innovative thinking and creative partnerships. We worked together to balance resources and support students while still investing in new programs and pursuing bold initiatives.

Tough times on Wall Street affect us all, but even in the face of a down economy, GCU experienced gains.

On the business side, we welcomed the considerable talents of Suzanne Elliott, RSM, our new vice president for mission and business affairs. In academics, we proudly introduced one of our own, Evelyn Quinn, M.Ed., M.S.W., '74, as our new chief academic officer.

We launched seven new programs in early childhood P–3 education and secured $300,000 in state funding for a partnership between GCU and a local school district. New minors were added in several areas, and the new McAuley Institute for Lifelong Learning, which offers non-credit classes for adult learners, has been a success. We even chartered a chapter of Omicron Delta Kappa, the national leadership honor society.

We were also awarded LEED Gold status for the Wellness Center, and we opened a newly renovated nursing skills lab in Hamilton Hall.

And as you would expect, our students took their learning experiences on the road, traveling to places like Quito, Ecuador, and Chulucanas, Peru, to do volunteer work. Members of our CACC Champion lacrosse team also took their talents abroad as they competed in the 2010 Down Under Cup in Australia.

Through prosperous times and rough patches, GCU remains true to the spirit of Catherine McAuley and the Mercy core values that inform every decision we make, every partnership we pursue, and every program we offer. Our commitment to cultivating informed, engaged, and exceptional leaders is as strong as ever, and we thank you for your unwavering support as you help fuel our vision of a brighter future. God continues to shower GCU with many blessings and we are grateful to you, our most appreciated supporters.

Fiscal Notes

Tough times on Wall Street plunged our country and New Jersey into one of the most tumultuous economic downturns in our nation's history. In response to the severe market decline, and relatively flat tuition revenue, the university continued its long standing efforts of good stewardship and made adjustments continuously throughout the year to ensure a positive financial position. All schools, divisions, and departments helped the university achieve a positive bottom line through cost-cutting reductions of approximately $1.3 million. This is testimony to the cooperative sacrifices among all areas of the university.

Despite the extraordinary challenges and the need to increase institutional aid to our students by $1.3 million over the 2008–2009 fiscal year, the university ended the last fiscal year with an operating budget surplus of $28,000. For the first time, the university withdrew endowment earnings made available under its spending policy in order to maintain a balanced budget, provide for cash needs, and end the year with an operating surplus. This distribution of earnings, which totaled $1,265,000, added to the $28,000, accounts for the increase in unrestricted net assets from operating activities of $1,293,700.

Investment performance for the fiscal year regained $6.2 million of the previous year's $8.2 million loss. The university takes a long view of its endowments and must balance current needs with the anticipated needs of future students. The spending from those funds cannot always meet the immediate demands and the utilization of the spending policy is revisited on an annual basis.

Fiscal challenges in New Jersey contributed to an extremely difficult budget process. With a new governor and the state budget facing huge deficits, independent higher education faced its largest threat in history.

At risk for the independent sector was the total elimination of direct state aid provided to the 14 independent colleges; a reduction in the Tuition Aid Grant (TAG) program of state aid, which would reduce the amount for private colleges to the level of the state institutions; and cuts to the Educational Opportunity Fund (EOF) for the state's neediest students. Through an organized lobbying campaign by the independent sector, $1.7 million was added to the TAG program for FY2010 and $1.3 million was restored to the EOF program, but all state aid to independent colleges was eliminated. For Georgian Court University, this results in a loss of revenue of more than $1 million.

INDEPENDENT COLLEGE FUND OF NEW JERSEY

Georgian Court University continues to benefit from generous corporate and foundation support given through the Independent College Fund of New Jersey. Begun in 1953, the fund makes a single, united annual request to corporations and foundations on behalf of the 14 member colleges. For 55 years, the fund has continued to secure corporate financial support for the state's independent colleges and to promote a greater understanding of the importance of maintaining the opportunity for choice between public and private education.

The Independent College Fund of New Jersey represents all of the state's fully accredited, privately controlled colleges and universities, except those that are engaged primarily in religious studies.

The following donors contributed to the fund in calendar year 2009. Most gifts are allocated by formula although a number are designated to specific institutions. Support in 2009 for independent higher education in New Jersey through the fund totaled $1,535,892.75.

Scholarships for All

Meet Melania Zandomenego, a 28-year-old married mom of three. One would think that having three young children at home would be enough of a challenge for anyone, but Melania is also a full-time Georgian Court senior working on a degree in elementary education and mathematics.

Most nontraditional students, like Melania, face enough challenges returning to school without affordability adding to their burden. Georgian Court offers scholarships for all students to help them achieve their goals. Melania herself has received the Ocean County Women's Association (OCWA) Scholarship for two years in a row—a scholarship specifically created for women from Ocean County who are re-entering the education field for the purpose of improving their earning capabilities.

Jane Lee, OCWA treasurer, says that her nine-member organization is thrilled to have been able to keep giving to the women who need it. And since sponsored scholarships start at a minimum annual investment of only $1,000, even small organizations and individuals can afford to start one. For more information on how you can support the educational future of GCU students, please contact Cynthia Barthole, director of annual giving, at cbarthole@georgian.edu or 732.987.2280.
