Dear GCU Community,

The United States Department of Education announced that emergency cash grants for college students whose lives and education have been disrupted by the COVID-19 outbreak are being made available through colleges and universities.

About the CARES Act

Funding is provided through the Higher Education Emergency Relief Fund (HEERF) authorized by the Coronavirus Aid Relief and Economic Security Act (CARES) signed into law on March 27, 2020. The intent of Congress was for colleges to provide assistance to students to help cover expenses related to the disruption of campus operations due to COVID-19.

Accessing Funds

Please complete the online application and submit online. Applications will be reviewed in the order of submission. You will be notified by e-mail of your funding status request. If you have not filed a 2019-2020 FAFSA, we ask that you do so by going to studentaid.gov.

The application to apply for CARES Act funds is available here: georgian.edu/application-for-higher-education-emergency-relief-fund/

At the present time, international students, DACA students, and students enrolled in an exclusively online degree program are not eligible for funds from the CARES Act. If you fall into this category and are in need of assistance, please complete the form on the GCU Cares webpage.

We will be reviewing applications and determining eligibility and amounts on an ongoing basis. Checks will be mailed to the address on file with the Office of Student Accounts. Questions should be e-mailed to esa@georgian.edu.

If you should know of any GCU students who may not have access to the internet and need assistance, please reach out to them and share this information.

Best wishes and good health to you and your loved ones.
